clean.

The true function of graphic design is to communicate the message from client to audience as cleanly as possible.

crisp.

The design should be straight and to the point.

clear.

Be clear who the target audience is, this way you will have a greater chance of succeeding with your marketing campaign.

This collection of memories and experiences is drawn from the people of Atherton, New Lodge and Stollens, three of whom have lived in the area at five lives.

These wonderful anecdotes give a fascinating insight into the everyday lives of the community over the past fifty years and more, and provide a valuable historical record for future generations.

Life in Atherton, New Lodge and Stollens remembered by the local people
